“Ella & Fella” tells a familiar tale with a few strange and unique twists. Everyone is familiar with the classic story of Cinderella: kept as a lowly servant by her wicked stepmother and forced to work day and night. In our version, we have an “Ella” but there is also a story happening simultaneously where a poor boy is a servant to his stepfather. He is called “The Fella.” Even though Ella and The Fella have never met each other, they are living parallel lives, both longing to be free and wishing they could find people who are actually nice, like them.

When the invitation comes to go to the royal ball and meet the Prince and Princess, Ella and The Fella long to go, but they cannot, since they have too much work to do and nothing suitable to wear. Along come the Fairy Godmother and her arch nemesis, the Fairy Godfather. A couple of wishes later, and the two heroes are off to the ball!

Once they get there and meet the snobbish Prince and Princess though, they decide that this isn’t the life they were wanting after all, and they have to plan a daring escape on the Good Ship Lollipop. After trekking through the dangerous dinosaur jungle they find their way to Hernando’s Hideaway, where they hope to lay low and not be discovered. It is here that, for the first time, Ella and The Fella meet each other and realise how much they actually have in common! But the Prince and Princess are hot on their trails. Will our heroes be caught…? See the show and find out!
